Abstract: Ideological and political education of college students is one of the main contents of college education, and it plays a very positive role in the growth and development of students. Incorporating it into student management can not only improve the level of ideological and political education, but also improve student management and promote students. Comprehensive development. How to integrate ideological and political education into the daily management of students through new methods and approaches has become the primary problem facing college administrators and educators. Therefore, colleges and universities should fully tap the educational potential and power of students' daily management, include ideological and political education of college students, and strive to improve the effectiveness of ideological and political education.

Keywords: Ideological and Political Education, Student Management Work

I. INTRODUCTION

In the footsteps of the new era, colleges and universities pay more and more attention to ideological and political education, making ideological and political education in an equally important position as student management. Integrating ideological and political education into student management work not only maximizes the goal of ideological and political education, improves effectiveness, but also plays a prominent role in the in-depth development of management work. It is an aspect that cannot be ignored in realizing the actual effect of ideological and political education. It has various forms and subtle influences. It can be carried out in combination with many specific scenes and events, and the educational effect is more direct, profound and targeted. Therefore, colleges and universities should actively guide and help the healthy growth of college students, and integrate the ideological and political education of college students in their daily management, so as to achieve "spring breeze and rain, moistening things silently".

Integrating the ideological and political education of college students into the management of students has a significant effect on the improvement of the level of ideological and political education of college students. First, this approach has created a very suitable environment for the popularization of ideological and political education. Student management work is reflected in all aspects of college students in the school, including academic management and management of other campus contents, so as to create a more portable environment; The integration of ideological and political education and student management has improved the level of student management, expanded student management channels, not only solved students' ideological problems, but also improved their academic performance.

On the one hand, ideological and political teachers guide students to form correct ideological concepts through ideological and political courses; on the other hand, managers improve students' ideological level through students' self-management, which can make management work in depth. The integration of ideological and political education into student management work, on the one hand, emphasizes the educational function of traditional ideological and political teachers, and on the other hand, highlights the management work of front-line counselors. Therefore, in-depth development is extremely beneficial. Based on ideological and moral construction and aiming at the all-round development of college students, it is a practical activity to cultivate and cultivate socialist qualified builders and reliable successors with all-round development of morality, intelligence, body and beauty. Among them, ideal and belief education is the soul and core of ideological and political education for college students. Ideological and political education is a unique form of education in my country's higher education and has a high correlation with the socialist system with Chinese characteristics.

Ideological and political education has long been a difficulty or deficiency in higher education. Students are generally not very interested in it, and the learning effect is relatively general. This is not only related to the content of ideological and political education, but also to the lack of teaching environment and the single teaching platform. etc. have an important relationship. Because teaching is often integrated into the concept of quality education and the practice of higher education is becoming more and more mature, the current concept of higher education has also undergone some changes. With the development of the times, the goal of ideological and political education is gradually changing, and cultivating talents with all-round development has become a new goal of ideological and political education. Ideological and political education can improve students' comprehensive quality, and student management can enhance students' comprehensive ability. The combination of the two is conducive to promoting students' all-round development.

II. THE PROPOSED METHODOLOGY

The phenomenon of one person serving as a multi-level counselor is common, which greatly reduces the intensity of student management. Secondly, as managers and educators, they should have high-quality ideological and political thoughts, but there are certain problems in the standardization of the admission, training, assessment, and promotion mechanisms for counselors and ideological and political teachers in colleges and universities. The long-term formation of this ideal and belief determines that the ideal and belief education for college students is not an overnight thing. Therefore, in the education of ideals and beliefs in colleges and universities, the correct ideals and beliefs of science must be carried forward with a clear-cut stand.

Therefore, in the process of educating college students on ideals and beliefs, they should neither be eager for quick success nor relax and weaken. Ideological and political education aims to transform students' thinking and guide students to establish a correct outlook on life, world outlook and values. There is a role that cannot be underestimated. However, the current ideological outlook of college students is not optimistic. Therefore, improving the comprehensive quality and ability development of college students is the priority goal of colleges and universities at present, and ideological and political education and student management work are the cornerstones for the completion of this goal. Ideological and political education takes the ideological transformation of students as the goal, guides college students to a correct outlook on life, values, world outlook and value orientation, etc. It also integrates ideological and political education into student management work to better transform students' thinking.

First of all, the school should inspect the actual work situation of the work team, hold regular exchange conferences, exchange student management work experience, solve student management work problems, formulate targeted solutions, and formulate phased plans, so as to allow ideological and political Education plays a better role in student management. A first-class workforce is crucial to both ideological and political education and student management. It is no exaggeration to say that the quality of the education workforce directly determines the quality of student management. Therefore, if the school wants to seek long-term development, it must face the various problems in the current student management team, and propose targeted solutions. With the rapid and in-depth development of economic globalization, Internet technology has accelerated the arrival of the information age, and various values and cultural trends of thought have been pouring into our country, impacting college students' outlook on life, world outlook and values. In addition, front-line personnel in student management, such as counselors, need to establish the concept of active education, take ideological and political education as an indispensable part of student management, and actively and actively infiltrate ideological and political management into students' study and life management. The content of education, such as the establishment of educational platforms and educational activities, optimizes the effect of ideological and political education.

However, there is no research and concern for college students other than learning, and they do not play the role they should play. As a manager, he did not realize the focus of his own work content, and misunderstood the nature, intelligence, and meaning of his work, and could not truly integrate ideological and political education into student management, thus affecting the ideological education of college students. Let managers self-development, self-improvement. Finally, the school should improve the selection criteria of managers, and select staff with good work style, strong work ability, and good management concepts, so as to improve the overall ability of the education team and improve the work efficiency of the education team. Give full play to the positive role of ideological and political education in student management.

First, there is a general shortage of professionals in school management. In order to solve this problem, schools should provide students with sufficient counselors and student management personnel in accordance with the regulations of the Ministry of Education; secondly, schools need to optimize and improve student management staff and students. Various competition mechanisms for leadership positions such as secretary of the Youth League Committee; institutional issues of ideological and political education for college students. The ideological and political education system mainly solves the problem of who should be responsible for the ideological and political work in colleges and universities and who should manage it. This requires at the same time the role of administrative leaders and mass organizations such as trade unions, the Communist Youth League, and student unions to jointly do a good job in ideological and political work. The school needs to optimize the access mechanism for student management staff, select counselors and other management personnel through open recruitment, and improve the competition mechanism for leadership positions such as the secretary of the Youth League Committee. The front-line management team has advanced management concepts and excellent management style to improve the level of student management.

For some blunt and unreasonable management methods, self-examination depends on whether the management system is consistent with the goals of ideological and political education, then announce and publicize the new system, and explain the relationship between ideological and political education and management. It is said that it can not only carry out the propaganda and popularization of ideological and political education, but also achieve a close integration of education and theory in management. Student management and ideological and political education play a vital role in the development of students. As one of the contents of student management work, ideological and political education can manage students through ideological and political courses and restrain students' bad behavior. , the problem of unity among colleges, families, society and student management.

In colleges and universities, many teachers define themselves as "researchers" and do not pay attention to matters other than students' professional courses. Some people think that student management is only the work of full-time student management workers in the school, and fails to "educate people". It is their fundamental task. Ideological and political education, as an important category of college education, plays an extremely crucial role in the growth and development of students. Ideological and political education is also the main content of student management in colleges and universities. Integrating ideological and political education into student management can not only expand the channels or carriers of ideological and political education, but also optimize the efficiency of student management, killing two birds with one stone. Ideological and political courses are a platform for student management. Schools should build a student management platform by designing ideological and political courses, so that students can learn advanced knowledge in ideological and political courses, so as to achieve the goal of student management.

Schools should attach importance to ideological and political courses, treat ideological and political courses and professional courses equally, design and improve courses in a planned way, and improve the effectiveness of courses. As one of the important contents of college education, ideological and political education plays an important role in the healthy growth and development of students. Integrating ideological and political education into student management work is conducive to further deepening ideological and political education, and is also conducive to obtaining better student management effects. Establish the management concept of educating people by all staff, and build a rationally structured ideological and political work team. The core of educating people in all, all directions, and the whole process is to educate all staff, because the undertakers of different work levels and work processes are the party and government leaders, teachers and student management personnel in colleges and universities.

Course teaching is the most important content in student management, and ideological and political education courses are also the main platform for students' ideological and political education. Therefore, highlighting the teaching efficiency of the course platform has become an inevitable choice to improve the effectiveness of ideological and political education. In this regard, schools should earnestly recognize the status and role of ideological and political courses as the main channel of ideological and political education for students. Identify the deficiencies in the courses, so as to enhance the educational nature of ideological and political courses, and then highlight the contribution and contribution of ideological and political education to student management. significance. Schools should encourage communication between student administrators and ideological and political teachers, and build a communication channel for both parties to exchange student information, urge both parties to improve the quality of work, and better serve students, so as to cultivate high-quality talents and meet the actual needs of society need.

CONCLUSION

In college education, ideological and political education is a key component. Ideological and political education is the best channel to improve the effect of student management. However, education and management are in the same line and complement each other. To achieve the all-round development of students. Therefore, in ideological and political education, on the one hand, schools need to play the backbone role of the existing curriculum platform, and on the other hand, they must rely on student management to improve the effectiveness of ideological and political education.
